Charles Thornton Libby wrote that the first Christmas present ever given in the Parson Lancaster House was that given his mother in 1852 by his father, it being a game pitcher and was purchased with the first money he ever earned ~~after~~ after leaving home. 3

The house had been occupied since 176 by orthodox ministers whose d scendants f folowed the edict that Christmas was a v very serious day and that no frivolous actions would be countenanced.
