It will be seen by referring to report of last year, the estimated outstanding demands at that time was estimated at $100, but we have found them to amount to $2,123 03, which we have paid the present year, together with the damage and cost of suit of Enoch Deering, amounting to about $1,600 00. After paying these unexpected sums the debt has been reduced $1,728 30. The town has also the present year paid $3,000 interest, and your Selectmen believing that it would be for the interest of the town, would recommend to raise the present year a sufficient sum of money to pay the town debt.

You will observe that by the present method of collecting your taxes, all your Collectors have settled their tax bills with the Treasurer, except for the last year, a thing unknown for many years past. We would therefore earnestly recommend 8 per cent. discount on all taxes voluntarily paid before the first day of January, and interest be charged on all taxes remaining unpaid after April 1st, be continued.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHNSON LIBBY,	} Selectmen of Scarboro'.
RICHARD LEAVITT,
BENJAMIN F. CARTER.

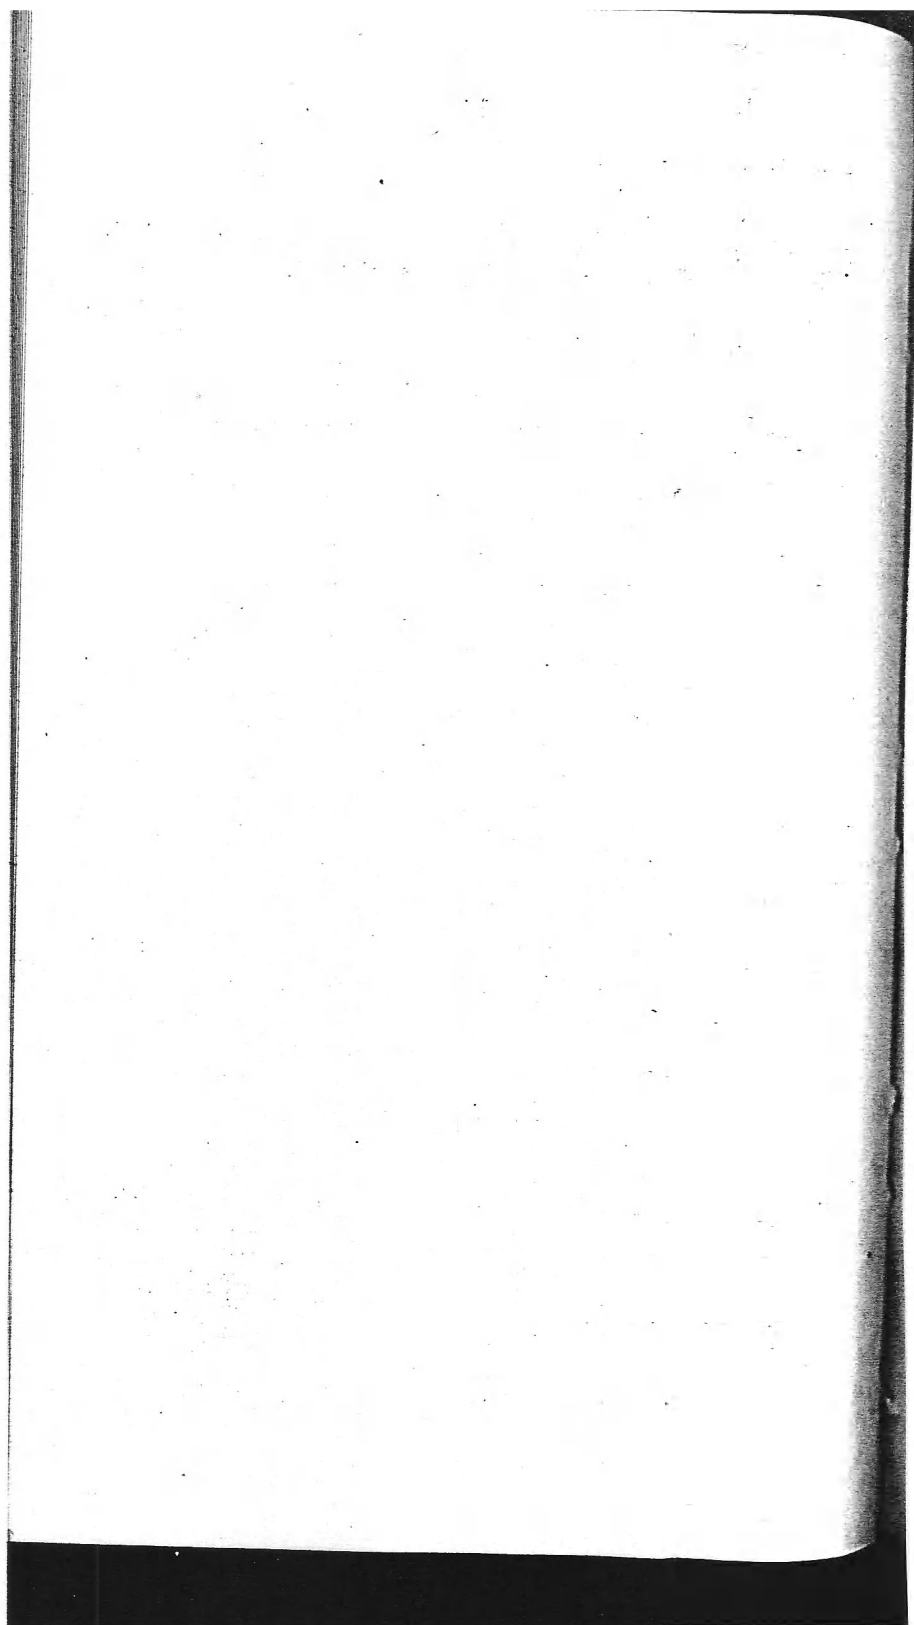

SCARBORO', March 1st, 1873.

Auditor's Certificate.

I hereby certify that the foregoing Report of the Selectmen, contains a full and accurate statement of all outstanding Town notes, as appears by the Note Book, also of all Town orders and bills. For each item they have exhibited satisfactory vouchers.

GRANVILLE McKENNEY, Auditor.

Scarboro', March 1st, 1873.

Report of the Superintending School Committee.

In making this annual report we invite your attention to a single point:

The character of our schools depend chiefly of course, on the private character of the pupils, and since this is formed mainly at home, the success or failure of these schools depend very much on the parents of the pupils. Well ordered and virtuous homes are very sure to produce well-ordered and happy schools.

Next in importance to parental influence stands that of school-teachers, and few have well considered the difficulty of securing really desirable teachers in sufficient numbers to meet our wants. It is indeed a very easy thing for any committee to ascertain whether an applicant for a teachership is well versed in our common school studies; but no preliminary examination can possibly determine whether he is "apt to teach" others, and whether he can govern a school, or control even himself; whether he will prove efficient, pleasant, and interested in the advancement of his pupils, or whether he is sluggish, ill-tempered, and interested only in his wages.

All this can be ascertained only by an actual trial of the candidate as a practical teacher. Often have we been sadly surprised by the failure of some of our best educated teachers; and no less surprised by the success of others who promised far less at their initial examination.

But however deficient any teacher may prove when subjected to this, the abrupt closing of a school before its time is always connected with many inconveniences and evils of no little moment. For this reason school committees frequently allow inferior schools to drag themselves on tediously to a natural death, instead of inflicting on them a sudden and judicial one—solely because they judge this to be "the least of two evils." Perhaps we have erred in this way, and we commend to your consideration the two following suggestions. First, we suggest that our successors in office shall make a more free use of the guillotine than we have, in the case of poor teachers and unprofitable schools. Lastly and specially, we recommend that any district which has been so happy as to secure a good and desirable teacher, shall by all means endeavor to retain that well-proved teacher, instead of engaging annually some stranger, and securing a good one only once in three or five years. There is little beauty, but much wisdom, in that old proverb, "Let well enough alone."

DISTRICT NO. 1, BEECH HILL.

Miss Sarah A. Larrabee had charge of this school, in both the Summer and Fall terms; and we regard this, her first experiment in teaching, as a success. It affords us great pleasure to note the increased attendance and steady improvement in this district during the last two years.

DISTRICT NO. 2, BLACK POINT.

The teacher for the Summer term, Miss Kemp, was faithful to her charge, pleasant, and gave general satisfaction.

Miss Maxwell taught here in the Winter term, and the school, when visited, was orderly, attentive, and had made evident progress during the term; yet the year has not been, on the whole, as prosperous and happy in this district, as some that have preceded it.

DISTRICT NO. 3, LIBBY.

JOHNSON LIBBY, AGENT.

Whole number of scholars in district 52. There was no Summer term in this district. The Fall and Winter terms were taught by Miss Olive Perry a teacher so well known in our own town, as a faithful, thorough and successful one, that it is unnecessary to add much. In this school she fully maintained her high reputation as a teacher, and the scholars generally made good proficiency.

DISTRICT NO. 4, BLUE POINT.

SUMMER TERM: Whole number of scholars, —. Average, —.

MISS MARY E. LEAVITT, TEACHER.

This school was well conducted and the improvement made by the pupils proved it a profitable term.

WINTER TERM: Miss Mary Wiggin, Teacher. Miss Wiggin had taught here before with satisfaction to the district, and we found as we expected, a good school. Miss W. excels as a teacher, rather than in government. The pupils made excellent progress and seemed to have a clear understanding of what they studied.

DISTRICT NO. 5, DUNSTAN.

SUMMER TERM: Whole number of scholars, —. Average, —.

MISS—PENNELL, TEACHER,

We find no serious fault with this school, yet the teacher did not succeed in awakening a very great degree of interest. The school was hardly up to its usual standard.

WINTER TERM: Sylvanus A. Hatch, Teacher. Whole number of scholars, —. Average, —. Mr Hatch is well known in town as a sound and experienced teacher, and this winter he fully sustained his reputation. Every department showed a degree of thoroughness that we were glad to see, and which, we regret to say, our schools too rarely exhibit.

DISTRICT NO. 6, SCOTTOW HILL.

SUMMER TERM: Whole number of scholars, —. Average, —.

This district has been unfortunate in its schools this year. The summer term was begun by Miss—Fogg, a teacher of fine reputation. Ill health compelled her to resign and Miss—Elder took her place. Miss E. lacked energy and the school was of little profit. Miss Emma Durgin taught the last four weeks of the term, and did excellent work in the limited time allowed her.

WINTER TERM: Mr. Joseph Walker, Teacher. Whole number of scholars, —. Average, —. Mr. Walker, though apparently well "qualified to govern and instruct," failed to awaken an interest among the scholars. On going to visit the school the second time we found it had prematurely closed a few days before.

DISTRICT NO. 7, BEECH RIDGE.

JOHN LIBBY, 4th, AGENT.

Whole number of scholars in district, 53. SUMMER TERM: Whole number attending school, 26. Average, 18.

WINTER TERM: Whole number attending school, 31. Average, 20.

Both summer and winter terms in this district, were under the instruction of Miss Sarah O. Bean.

Miss Bean is a fine scholar and took much pains to give her pupils that thorough instruction that she was so well qualified to give.

The schools appeared well when visited and at the close showed a good degree of improvement.

DISTRICT NO. 10, BROAD TURN.

ALBERT CARTER, AGENT.

Whole number of scholars in district, 48. SUMMER TERM: Whole number attending school 21. Average, 15. Mary F. Boody Teacher. This was Miss Boody's first school, and although quite young, she appeared as much at home in the school room as many old teachers. She appears to be possessed of faculties requisite for a successful teacher. The government was very good, and maintained with a skill wonderful in a teacher's first school, and at an age so young. The scholars, generally, appeared to be interested in their studies and obedient to their teacher, and, as we should expect under such circumstances, made good improvement.

WINTER TERM: Mr. William Moulton, Teacher. Whole number of scholars, —. Average, —. Mr. Moulton is an earnest, wide-awake teacher, and kept an excellent school. We found good discipline and good lessons. The pupils made rapid improvement and we saw little reason for anything but commendation.

DISTRICT NO. 11, OAK HILL.

SUMMER TERM: Miss Mary J Wiggin, Teacher. We find the school eminently happy under the kind and successful tuition of Miss W.,—who seems to lack nothing, except, possibly a slight increase of sternness in her motherly discipline. We can speak of this school only in terms of praise.

In the Winter term the male teacher who commenced the session under favorable auspices and excited our highest hopes, soon blighted all those hopes by the unpardonable errors of his mode of discipline; and after some tedious and unsatisfactory weeks, the school came to a premature and unlamented end.

DISTRICT NO. 13, COAL KILN.

W. F. BUTLER, AGENT.

Whole number of scholars in District, 48.

SUMMER TERM: Emma L. Durgin, Teacher. Whole number of scholars attending school, 33. Average, 27. This school was well attended, well governed and well instructed. We regard Miss Durgin as a good and successful teacher.

The Winter term was under the instruction of Rev. Jeremiah Hayden.

The schools appeared to be characterized by good feelings between the teacher and his scholars. The teacher was faithful in the discharge of his duties, and the scholars generally made a good degree of improvement.
